

Stacy Julian

Stacy Julian is a recognized leader in the scrapbooking industry and the visionary founder of Big Picture Scrapbooking, Inc. Launched in November 2005, Big Picture Scrapbooking was the first dedicated online scrapbooking education program with members around the world. Offering a wide range of convenient on-demand projects and progressive multi-week courses, what differentiates BPS is Julian's simple step by step thematic approach that unlocks a person's creativity and helps them to easily create stories out of life's special moments.

In September of 2010 we decided to change our name to Big Picture Classes to embrace all of the classes we offer: from scrapbooking to photography, we offer all types of classes to feed your creative spirit.

A passionate and sought-after speaker, trainer and author, Julian regularly presents across the nation and abroad, including Japan, Australia and Europe. Author of four books, her recent title Photo Freedom is sold at local craft stores, CreatingKeepsakes.com and Amazon.com. She also has a popular blog (stacyjulian.com) and strong Twitter following (stacyjulian). Her television appearances include the Discovery Channel's Home Matters and the PBS series More than Memories. Simple Scrapbooks Magazine, where Julian was the founding editor, has been mentioned in The Chicago Tribune and Woman's Day as a leading trade publication for the scrapbooking industry.

Julian holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Brigham Young University. A certified professional teacher with the Craft and Hobby Association since 1997, Julian lives in Spokane, Washington and is a proud wife and energetic mother of five.
