

For Immediate Release

CONTACT: Vicky Thornton / Jen Rehberger
859-581-6985 / media@vickyandjen.com

All Those Photos!

Simple strategies to preserve, share, and most importantly, enjoy your pictures is what All Those Photos! is about on What Really Matters. On this latest episode of Preserving Family Memories, Vicky Thornton and Jen Rehberger are joined by Stacy Julian, founder of Big Picture Scrapbooking, for a candid chat to get motivated without being intimidated by perfection or overwhelmed by choices. She exposes the truth about storage, cropping, journaling, choosing and showing your favorites with ideas that we can use immediately, all with additional resources on the companion page on vickyandjen.com. This entertaining show is part of the popular Preserving Family Memories Series including Traditions, Get Togethers and Picture Perfect.

About VickyandJen.com and What Really Matters

Vickyandjen.com is a family resource website and podcast show dedicated to making life simple so you can enjoy what really matters. On the podcast show, What Really Matters, Vicky and Jen talk about hot family topics, interviewing guests from parenting experts to nationally acclaimed authors, chefs to musicians, life coaches to doctors, and professional organizers to travel connoisseurs. Listeners can upload these informative, radio-style shows directly from the website or iTunes and listen anytime. In addition to the podcast, Vicky and Jen provide a companion page of resources for each show with additional information for the listener. Vickyandjen.com shares recipes, kids activities and practical ideas you can really use to make every day more manageable so you can enjoy what really matters to you.

About Vicky and Jen

Vicky and Jen are two moms who met when taking their children to weekly storytime. Casual conversations grew into a friendship as they realized they had more in common than the local library. Vicky has a gifted passion for learning and teaching, working for many years in the education field. Jen's passion for water led her around the world as a SCUBA instructor and trip leader. Seemingly very different, once becoming moms, both Vicky and Jen dedicated themselves to enjoying family life and are determined to keep life simple. What Really Matters, their popular podcast, was launched as an effort to share the information, networking and knowledge of experts with others making every day matter! For more about Vicky and Jen, click here.

About Stacy Julian

Stacy Julian is a recognized leader in the scrapbooking industry and the visionary founder of Big Picture Scrapbooking. Launched in November 2005, it is the first dedicated online scrapbooking education program with members around the world, featuring Stacy's simple step by step thematic approach to unlock a person's creativity and helps them to easily create stories out of life's special moments. A passionate and sought-after speaker, trainer and author, Stacy regularly presents across the nation and abroad. Stacy holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Brigham Young University and is a certified professional teacher with the Craft and Hobby Association.